Williamson County Receives Clean Audit

Tennessee Comptroller Justin P. Wilson is pleased to announce that Williamson County government has achieved a distinctive honor.

Williamson County has received a clean audit report for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2016. This means the county's audit report was completed without any findings. Few counties can claim to have an audit report without a finding indicating weaknesses or deficiencies in government operations. This result is particularly impressive because of the size and complexity of the county's financial operations.

The audit of Williamson County revealed a strong system that allows for accurate financial reporting and clear checks and balances that help protect taxpayer money. Williamson County residents should be encouraged that county leaders and elected officials are taking their responsibilities seriously.

Williamson County received six findings in fiscal year 2014, four in fiscal year 2015, and zero this year. All previous findings have been corrected.

"A clean audit report is a strong indicator of good government," said Comptroller Justin P. Wilson.

"Williamson County can now claim to have one of the strongest county governments in Tennessee. I'd like to congratulate county leaders and employees for this accomplishment."

Williamson County joins Blount County, Tipton County, Warren County, Overton County, Lawrence County, Bedford County and Unicoi County in receiving a clean audit report for fiscal year 2016. The Comptroller will continue to release fiscal year 2016 audits through March of 2017.
